

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, - - - OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday.

Common Council will meet Monday evening.

Mr. John Brookhouse is in the city at the Skibbe hotel.

Astoria is all right yet. You will hear from Mr. Mallory in a few days.

Mrs. W. Lord and Mrs. Houghton returned by steamer Regulator last evening.

Jos. T. Peters yesterday received by steamer Regulator, a magnificent lot of cedar shingles.

Mrs. C. H. Brown returned by steamer Regulator last evening from her visit to the coast and sound.

Hon. Robert Harbison, of Washington, D. C., is in the city attending to business at the land office.

Mr. M. V. Harrison, the leading Hood River merchant, is in the city today. Also C. P. Heald, who is now about considered a resident at The Dalles.

A lot of horses that had been taken to Portland for sale, returned to the Inland Empire by steamer Regulator last night, labeled "not sold because of a dull market."

Councilman C. E. Haight, who has been in Portland since Monday, returned by steamer Regulator last evening, bringing with him his favorite pacing mare, which has been in training.

Mrs. L. L. McCartney of Thompson's addition, who has been absent on a visit to family connections and friends in Linn county for the past seven weeks, returned by steamer Regulator last evening.

Ex-Rep. McD. Lewis, who was carried to Salem some weeks ago for medical treatment, returned today not the least improved. He will now remain in The Dalles in hope of a beneficial change in his condition.

N. J. Sinnott has received an invitation to come to Notre Dame and enter the list of teachers in that college. He feels highly complimented, but thinks it is doubtful if he can leave Oregon at present.

City Marshal Maloney carries his arm in a sling today because of a buggy smash-up yesterday, while in company with his friend Harry Bulger, trying his new roadster. Harry thought it a pretty close call for them.

Dr. D. L. Cates, formerly sheriff of Wasco county, has become associated with Dr. Leavings of Cascade Locks, in the mercantile trade. They intend to carry a full and complete stock of general merchandise amounting to at least $10,000.

Rev. Mr. Wistler, who has been appointed to the pastorate of the new M. E. church in this city, arrived on the noon passenger today. He has the appearance of being just the man The Dalles M. E. people have been looking for some time.

Mrs. H. L. Powell, who so nearly met her death by an accident in the vicinity of Dufur several weeks since, is now reported to be suffering from typhoid fever. In the midst of her terrible afflictions on Sunday evening she gave birth to a daughter. Truly she has the sympathy of the public.

Another view of the steamer Regulator, at the wheat laden dock last evening, was taken from Mr. Hubbard to illustrate The Dalles-Liverpool all water route carrying our wheat away, via Astoria and Cape Horn. Mr. Hubbard's pictures are wonderful missionaries for The Dalles and the Inland Empire.

Mr. A. Y. Marsh, one of our leading Dalles City fruit shippers, has been informed by the Portland firm which takes his fruit, that his Tokay grapes are selling at an advance over the California grape of same variety, as "they are superior to them in flavor and beat anything we ever tasted from California."

Mr. C. A. Fisher, father of Mrs. I. I. Burget of this city, has been here on a visit since Monday, and is about convinced that he prefers The Dalles to his Lyons county home in Iowa. About the 7th inst. they had a killing frost back there, as a foretaste of Stern Old Winter. The climate and productions of this region is a revelation to him.

Mr. M. Herrick, one of the pioneer cannerymen of the Columbia river, now operating with Mr. I. H. Taffe at Celilo, was in the city last evening on a hurried business trip with Mr. Taffe. They report the fish running pretty well yet. The Oregonian yesterday said Mr. Taffe would put up 29,000 cases this fall. We think we can see those figures and go a 1,000 better.

Mr. Phil Brogan, who came in from Astoria yesterday to close a sale of 2,000 head of fine mutton sheep to Mr. Butler, for the east, says that after the recent shower grass shot up fresh and fine in that region at the rate of two inches in four days all over, and the country is now so rich in pasture that the sheep fairly baw for joy. His are all out of the mountains now.

Mr. J. A. Johnson left this morning for the Portland exposition with another very choice collection of fruits contributed by Sandoz Bros., from their Mill creek farm, for exhibition, consisting of Shaler Rose, Muscat and Black Hamburg grapes, Sandoz peaches, (a French variety), choice apples, and a large crate of luscious strawberries. Mr. Joshua French added some very large quinces to the collection.

Mr. C. J. Crandall, who has been in attendance upon the Northwest Funeral Directors Association meeting at Tacoma, returned on the noon passenger today. He reports that the session was a very interesting one. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. M. Stewart, Seattle, president; E. R. Butterworth, Centralia; S. M. Smith, Spokane, vice-presidents; C. J. Crandall, The Dalles, secretary; F. S. Dunning, East Portland, treasurer.

From the Daily Chronicle Saturday.

Monday will be collection day.

Thermometer today 76° in The Dalles—fine.

Mrs. C. G. Roberts, of Hood River, is at The Umatilla.

Deputy sheriff Phirman is at Cascade Locks today on official business.

There will be an exodus of Dalles City Attorneys tomorrow to Moro.

Our Bro. Ed. Cradelbaum is up on a flying visit today from Hood River.

Mrs. Jessie Oakes, of Mitchell, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. P. Morgan.

Miss Nellie Butler has accepted a school at Wamic, and left for that place yesterday.

The new Congregational church in this city will be dedicated on the 16th inst.

Mayor Mays is in the city today, and will remain several days. He will be in attendance at the Press convention.

The New Germania opened today, and Messrs. Stubling & Williams smile, the guests "smile" also, proud of such a neat cosy resort.

City Recorder Menefee has had a very attractive card printed, descriptive of the city lots to be sold at auction, commencing on the 11th.

Mr. John G. Maddock, the Goldendale banker, was a passenger out by stage this morning, returning from a trip to the Golden Gate.

We regret exceedingly to hear that Mr. M. V. Harrison, Hood River's popular merchant, has had his doors closed by some eastern creditor.

Justice Schutz court room has been Masonically "raised," by the introduction of a large light which sheds its rays after nightfall upon all who come searching.

Five more boxes of elegant fruit from The Dalles, was received at Portland exposition this morning from the orchard of Mr. Emil Schanno. That's right—send it ahead.

Judge Blakeley, in the matter of the estate of Mr. Sunshine, deceased, met with others interested, in Justice Schutz court to make an inquiry into the estate as provided by law.

The price for all advertising in THE CHRONICLE is uniformly the same. We never make fish of one customer and fowl of another. We give better service for the price than any other daily newspaper in the state of Oregon.

Col. Sidney Dell of the sea-port city, passed through on the noon passenger. We regret missing one of his courtly greetings by failure to meet the train. He is evidently off on business to Ogden or beyond.

A number of gentlemen, members, will soon form the incorporation of the First Christian church of The Dalles, Or. The work of building the foundation for the new edifice has begun. After completion of the foundation by the church society, the structure will be put up by Contractor Boyer.

Street commissioner Staniels will have the streets of Dalles city looking as neat as a new pin by Monday night. People who persist in littering the streets with paper, etc., make Jack nearly as mad, if not madder than the merchant who does his advertising by keeping a lot of old empty boxes on the sidewalks.

Among the freight by the Regulator last night was a fine lamp for Mr. N. Harris. It was incased in a box as tall as an ordinary dry goods counter, large base and small top, reminding one of the conundrum of grandmother's churn: "Big at the bottom, small at the top, with a staff in the middle going flip-a-taflop."

W. E. Garretson says it is astonishing what a number of beautiful stones are brought to him annually to be sent away to be dressed by a lapidary. Some of these are garnets, opals and the most lovely agates, picked up all along the Columbia. The latest are four just returned to him from Denver for Messrs. John Marden and S. L. Brooks, picked up by them this summer at the Cascades.

A young lady of The Dalles has a beautiful opal taken from the gizzard of a grouse, and it is polished as nicely as if it had been dressed by a virtuoso skilled in the work of polishing gems. These are facts worthy of mention, and go to add to the knowledge of the existence in our midst of many hidden mysteries yet to be discovered for profitable development.

The ladies of the committees who are going to the Cascades on Tuesday to meet the members of the Press Association, desire THE CHRONICLE to say that they will not be prepared to serve refreshments to others than members of the Press Association, and advise others who go, to be prepared with lunch baskets.

We are informed that the action for damages resulting from the Union Pacific railway accident at the cascades, Feb. 3d, 1890, brought by Claus Meyer, has been settled the company paying complainant $7,000. The case was started in the Wasco circuit court, and was afterwards taken into the United States court at Portland.

A. J. Ahola, for some time past manager for the Farmers' Mercantile company at Goldendale, has severed his connection with that firm and accepted a position with Mays & Crowe of The Dalles. The Sentinel says: "Mr. Ahola is one of the young men who all unaided has proven himself capable of doing business upon a paying basis. The citizens of Goldendale will be sorry to lose this sterling young man, but our loss will be a decided gain for The Dalles. D. Cram will take the management of the Farmers' Mercantile company vice A. J. Ahola. Mr. Cram has had many years experience as a salesman and was a member of the firm of Cumming & Cram."

A dispatch from Homestead today states that a sensation was created there yesterday, when a number of members of the advisory committee of strikers, Chairman Crawford, members Baird, Ryland, Dierken and Brown were arrested. They are charged with treason, and the warrants are based on the information of Chief Justice Paxson. The arrests were very unexpected. The prisoners were taken to Pittsburg, and landed in jail. The strikers are very much excited. The information against the men charges O'Donnell, McLuckie and thirty others, all members of the advisory committee, with ordaining, preparing and levying war against the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and defying and resisting the constitution, laws and authorities. The petitions on which Chief Justice Paxson issued the warrants were made by the county officers. This is the first time in the history of the state that any resident has been charged with treason, and the outcome of the cases will be watched with interest. The penalty for treason is twelve years' imprisonment.

Miss Cora Joles was among the passengers today by steamer Regulator, for Portland to visit friends and attend the exposition.

Mayor Mays is putting up his third crop of alfalfa this year. On some soil it is the grass, but not so on all soils. He has already sowed 110 acres of rye.

Deputy Sheriff M. A. Leslie of Moro, visited The Dalles yesterday to take charge of his jail bird, held here for safety until court met at Moro today.

Mr. A. S. Macallister is again in the city, and will be present at the fair, and act in his capacity as President of the association. He is looking hale and hearty.

Mr. J. G. Farley returned from Walla Walla Saturday night. He says The Dalles delegation at the district fair are jubilant over their successes at the exhibition of horses.

Mr. Malcolm MacInnes, assistant secretary of the agricultural society, may be found at the office of Wm. Butler & Co., corner of Second and Jefferson streets, The Dalles.

The belated passenger for Portland this morning was a young man, whose solace was: "Well, I'll try again tomorrow." This was his third miss, twice by train and once by boat.

A genuine hobo of the genius tramp was lead up to the Hotel de Cross Bar last night by Deputy U. S. Marshal Jameson, for procuring whisky for an Indian Caroline. He hails from Seattle.

The Gesang Verein Harmonie have chosen the following officers for the ensuing year: Hans Hansen president; Ad Keller vice-president; R. Rorden secretary; F. Lempke treasurer; Carl Gottfried musical director.

Mr. Chandler returned to Antelope today. He was disappointed at not being able to meet Hon. C. W. Cartwright there last night by appointment. He is preparing to leave Oregon for England.

Wild geese, floating glacially by The Dalles this fall on the bosom of the Columbia, remind us of that phrase of the "fat duck setting upon the pearly edges of prosperity" which Portland swiped from us back in the sixties.

Mr. Emil Schanno is converting a large portion of his pear crop into vinegar, his grapes into white wine, and is drying his prunes. There are more ways than one to dispose of the orchard products in Wasco county.

A very handsome piece, representing a printers frame and cases, to be elaborately decorated with fruits and flowers, has been prepared by the skillful hands of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks as an ornament for the President's table at the Press Association convention tomorrow.

Mr. John Born of this city has tobacco stalks that measure six feet in height. It was his purpose only to produce this article for the juices to be used in spraying fruit trees, but the samples he will show at the court house will inform the editorial fraternity that tobacco may also be considered a prolific product of Wasco county.

Figs were raised in The Dalles that reached a high stage of perfection in June this year. Three branches were contributed by Mr. E. Schanno for the exposition yesterday that are marvels. Those branches were filled with the fruit in the stages of second and third crops. Mr. Schanno imported the cuttings of his finest figs from Europe.

One of the handy inventions for fruit producers is Chrisman's patent dryer. Yesterday we saw two boxes of prunes going to the exposition that were as perfectly cured as anything could be in the fruit line. One of the lots of Italian prunes from which the sample was taken, was dried in eighteen hours. Silver prunes were dried in twenty hours.

Divers have been at work for a week past removing drift in the Columbia about a mile above the Celilo cannery. Some logs have been taken out that appear to have laid in the water since the days of Noah. It has been piled up on the beach, and after it has dried out so it will burn, Mr. Taffe will log and burn it. Some of this timber would make fine material for violins and other musical instruments, but as Mr. Taffe is only fixing for a seining grounds, he has no use for the drift.

A new hatchery for salmon has to be established on the Sandy this fall, as the Clackamas does not furnish a supply any longer. The coming assembly will be asked to take more decided action on the fish question, if our salmon are not wholly exterminated. Capt. Campbell, one of newly elected representatives from Clatsop county, says: "To allow a few selfish cannerymen to carry on a business that is a detriment to the community at large is foolish in the extreme. The Sunday law is a hoax; it was only intended for a political job, and should be abolished. The hatcheries may be made a success if young fish are allowed a chance but never otherwise."

BORN.

In The Dalles Sunday evening Sept. 26, 1892, to the wife of H. L. Powell, a daughter.

On 10 Mile creek near this city, Sept. 30th, to the wife of E. D. Davis, a son.

New York, Oct. 1.—A London special says the election in South Bedfordshire for member of parliament to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Cyril Flower to the peerage, S. H. Whitbread, a Gladstonian, was elected.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines on The Death of Mrs. Ida Winsler, of The Dalles.

Hark! the angel voices singing
Welcome to a heavenly guest.
One who left this world of sorrow,
And has entered into rest.

Rest so sweet, in Jesus bosom,
In his arms of endless love:
Could we mourn our dear departed
Call her from her home above?

Though we miss the gentle foot-steps
And the smiles of love and cheer
And the voice which softly whispered
"All I leave in Jesus care."

Yet we call thee not dear Ida
From the world of peace and rest,
But we hope when life is over,
We'll be numbered with the blest.

JENNIE.

A Visit From Tourists.

Judge G. W. Lewis and wife, of Medina, Ohio, on a tour of the Pacific coast, made the trip to The Dalles Saturday via steamers Dalles City and Regulator, and after remaining here over Sunday left by steamer Regulator this morning for Portland, where they take the Southern Pacific for San Francisco and the east. We have met a great many highly pleased tourists this year at The Dalles, but have conversed with none more delighted than Judge and Mrs. Lewis. They had their first feast of speckled trout, and luscious fruits, here; and Judge Lewis' enthusiasm concerning mountain climbing and lofty views was indulged in by many rambles over the summits about The Dalles. Accompanying them on their return today they have some of the fruits and flowers of Dalles city gardens, but nothing compared to what they might have had, with a little more time on a week day, to make the collection.

Dalles Horses at Walla Walla.

The Dalles delegation at Walla Walla report having a splendid season. Our Dalles horses have made fine records for themselves, and won many laurels. Mr. J. O. Mack's horses, Anita, Parole, Sireata, and Mamie S., carried the day in several leading contests last week, in some of the prettiest races of the tour. On Saturday Anita won the first purse in the 2:38 contest $350, time 2:29½; and first prize for the finest exhibition trotting horse on the track. When at Salem Anita took second purse and prize. On Wednesday, at Walla Walla, Parole took the purse, $250 in the three-eighth dash. In the same race Sireata took the second purse, $50. On Thursday Mamie S took first purse, $200, in the quarter dash. The delegation will be at La Grande this week, and will then return to The Dalles to be in attendance at the fair to be held here, beginning on the 11th, continuing five days.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of the Piper,
Jack Sprat, and Merry King Cole,
And the Three Wise Men of Gotham,
Who went to see in a boat,
The woman who rode on a broomstick,
And swept the cobwebbed sky,
And the boy who sat in the corner,
Eating his Christmas pie.

These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Pansy" and "Chatterbox" stories, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and "Five Little Peppers." The old fashioned pills and physics have been superseded, and wisely, too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, a mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one for a dose.
